Multiple crisis significantly shapes the international relations. Global society seek solutions for a sustainable economy. In this context, the concept of "green economy" appears as one of the responses to the challenge of contemporary economy crisis and climate change. Negative effects of economic development on environment require quickly responses at local, national, regional and global levels. Green economy is seen as a long-term framework for ensuring sustainable development and reduce environmental risks. The paper methodology is based on content analysis of specialized literature and international documents, as well as current worldwide statistics of green economy. This article aims to encourage an application of international policy of green economy and negotiation over it.

Keywords: green economy, crisis, policy of green economy.

ZELENA EKONOMIJA - PRAVNI OKVIR

Višestruka kriza znatno oblikuje međunarodne odnose. Globalno društvo je u potrazi za rešenjima za ostvarenje održive ekonomije. U tom kontekstu, koncept „zelene ekonomije“ pojavljuje se kao jedan od odgovora na izazove savremene ekonomske i klimatske krize. Negativni efekti ekonomskog razvoja na životnu sredinu iziskuju hitan odgovor na lokalnom, nacionalnom, regionalnom i globalnom nivou. Zelena ekonomija se posmatra kao dugoročan okvir za obezbeđivanje održivog razvoja i smanjenje rizika po životnu sredinu. Metodologija rada zasnovana je na analizi sadržaja specijalizovane literature i međunarodnih dokumenata, kao i aktuelne svetske statistike o zelenoj ekonomiji. Ovaj članak ima za cilj da podstakne primenu međunarodne politike zelene ekonomije i pregovaranje o njoj.

Ključne reči: zelena ekonomija, kriza, politike zelene ekonomije.
